

P&H INTERIORS

Celebrating its 30th anniversary this year, P&H Interiors has become known throughout South Florida for interior designs tailored to each client's taste and needs. As principal designer Susan Connor puts it, they "bring a powerhouse of product, passion and purpose to each project." She goes on to attribute her success to the enthusiasm of her clients and their referrals, saying, "We enjoy working with clients in all different phases of life and create interiors that reflect changes in their lifestyles. Many of our clients retain our services for each new home they purchase. They become our friends and extensions of the P&H family. We are proud of the strong and lasting relationships we have built with them." While the primary goal is to successfully design the space for which a homeowner is longing, Connor and her team also strive to make the process a positive and stress-free one. "Upon completion of a project, our clients feel a sense of pride and peace of mind, knowing we have taken care of every detail on their wish list." The people have always been the key influence and guiding force behind P&H's designs, whether the project is a vacation condominium, a family home, a builder's model or a clubhouse. "We make sure to stay current, especially with the newest products and innovations," Connor says. "In the end, we want our clients to be thrilled with the outcome, and they always are."

Ask the Expert

Key influences in your work?

Our clients. We strive to create a personalized space that reflects the homeowner's lifestyle or the developer's brand and target market in the most aesthetic and memorable way.

Define a successful project.

A beautiful interior space is, of course, the goal for every designer. What's different about P&H is that we also strive to make the actual process a positive and carefree experience for our clients.

What's next for the firm?

We are excited to be expanding our corporate office building by an additional 4,000 square feet to accommodate the growth of the architectural side of our business. This will enable our talented design staff, led by 25-year team member Julie Harris, to work in a space that's better equipped to service our clients' needs.

1. A sleek glass desk is cantilevered from the combination stained wood and high-gloss acrylic office unit, and supported by a custom, stainless-steel leg. A series of architectural photography balances the handsome space. 2. Luxurious, yet casual, this dining room boasts a mix of chambray and velvet textures in an earthy color palette. Contemporary furnishings with classic lines and soft hints of colorful artwork further define the fresh look. 3. Contemporary design doesn't have to be masculine, as evident in this beautiful master bath. Polished marble floors, high-gloss metallic cabinetry and reflective glass mosaics, all in a taupe hue, meld into a singular feminine oasis. 4. Polished marble floors in a custom arabesque geometric pattern add a chic touch to the classic architecture and timeless black-and-white motif of this grand foyer.
