The Face of INTERIOR ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN

Susan Connor
Founder
P & H Interiors

Striking and subtle, a tranquil calm flows from every project pictured on Interior Designer Susan Connor's captivating website. "A welcoming sense of warmth is a must in each home, in every room," says the 35-year veteran of her craft.

Full home renovations and new construction keep Susan and her team at P & H Interiors elevating clients' homes, and those of their friends and families, into showcase properties from Palm Beach County to the country's favorite bucket-list locales.

"We begin with an extensive interview to understand and really speak to the needs of the client and their lifestyle, and make sure that they are all-inclusive in the process. It's a very personal integration," she explains.

"The architect creates the footprints of the house, and what people may not realize is that the interior architecture is the designer's creation from the beginning. We create the flooring details, bathrooms, kitchen, moldings, ceiling designs, etc. We are designing and specifying every feature for the builder to execute. We then put in the many layers of furnishings and accessories that reflect the clients' preferences.

"For the most part, people are looking for a more neutralized, fresh base, which is especially well-suited for Florida. We make the design versatile for the client to surround themselves with all that makes a house a home," says Susan.
